Christians Over World Observe Easter

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Christians around the world prepared today for Easter Sunday, the most triumphant Holy Day of the year.

The penitential mourning of Good Friday, commemorating the crucifixion of Christ, will give way to the joyous refrain of "Alleluia, the Lord is Risen."

Across the United States, churches planned sunrise services to celebrate the Resurrection.

The traditional service will be held aboard the USS Constitution, "Old Ironsides," in Boston Harbor and in Red Rocks Park near Denver, where work crews had to shovel nine inches of snow from the seats.

In Alabama, worshippers will make a pre-dawn trek to Mound State Monument for the pageant "The Road to Calvary." It will be staged on three of the largest mounds, which were built by Indians centuries ago as places of worship.

There will be sunrise services at Oklahoma's Wichita Mountain Wildlife Reservation, at Radio City Music Hall in New York City, at a placid pine-rimmed reservoir in Irvington, just north of New York, and at Alto Pass, Ill., where a 111-foot cross will be dedicated.

Construction of the cross began five years ago. It's the work of the Rev. Wayman Presley, a retired Methodist clergyman.

There also will be the traditional Easter egg hunts in many communities and the Easter parades of new, spring clothes. The forecast for New York's Fifth Avenue parade was for fair weather with temperatures in the 40s and 50s.

Police Head Indicted for Conspiracy

By CHARLES T. BURNS

BOSTON (AP) — Gov. Endicott Peabody is acting to suspend the head of the Massachusetts State Police indicted on charges including conspiracy and larceny.

Peabody told a news conference Thursday night it appeared "there are legal grounds for me to suspend" Public Safety Commissioner Frank S. Giles, 48, former Republican floor leader in the Massachusetts House of Representatives.

"However, to insure the commissioner's basic rights," he said, "we are asking the attorney general to give us a ruling on the matter. If his ruling concurs with that of my legal counsel, we shall suspend Commissioner Giles forthwith."

Giles was indicted Wednesday by an Essex County Grand Jury on 38 counts of conspiracy, larceny, aiding and abetting in filing false reports and violation of the conflict of interest law.

The commissioner earlier Thursday announced he would ask for a leave of absence without pay until court action in the case was complete.

Peabody said suspension would protect Giles' rights better than a leave of absence. He explained that Giles would receive back pay should he be cleared of the charges.

The governor, a Democrat, declined comment on charges by Giles that the indictments were politically motivated.

Atty. Gen. Edward W. Brooke, also a Republican, said the offenses charged in the indictments did not involve State Police activities. He said they covered a period from 1958 to 1962.

Giles was appointed in 1961 by former Gov. John A. Volpe, a Republican.

Four other persons, including Giles' administrative assistant, also were indicted on testimony submitted by the Massachusetts Crime Commission.

Giles said in a news conference there had been published reports that a "leading Republican" had been "a sacrificial lamb" in the commission's investigations.

"Evidently, I have been judged expendable," he said.

MacArthur Is Some Improved

WASHINGTON (AP) — General of the Army Douglas MacArthur's moderately inflamed right lung showed marked improvement today—but he remained in serious condition though still progressing satisfactorily.

Walter Reed Army Medical Center spokesmen said:

"The significant development today is that the lung shows marked improvement. Otherwise, his condition is the same."

The condition was discovered Thursday and antibiotics were administered against this added threat to the recovery of the 84-year-old general from two major operations within 17 days.

At last report, doctors said the situation was essentially the same and could add no new evaluation of the general's condition.

Presumably, his condition remains as it was two days ago—seriously ill, but improved from his extremely critical condition Monday after emergency surgery.

The general came to Walter Reed Army Medical Center with severe jaundice, was operated on March 6 for removal of gall stones and gall bladder.

Rebellious Brazil Troops Surrender

By EDGAR MILLER

RIO DE JANEIRO (AP) — About 3,000 dissident sailors and marines surrendered to the army today after a passive, two-day rebellion they spent in a downtown building bemoaning the political situation and the status of military men in Brazil.

Army buses and trucks bore them to barracks of the Guards Battalion of the 1st Army, a spit-and-polish outfit that smashed a revolt of navy and air force enlisted personnel in Brasilia last September.

The rebels launched a sit-down strike in the six-story building of the Metalurgical Workers Union Wednesday night in support of a marine, Cpl. Jose Anselmo, who had been ordered arrested for making political speeches while on active duty. Military regulations forbid political activity.

Anselmo's speeches were in support of President Joao Goulart's program for constitutional reforms, particularly in his proposal that enlisted men be given the vote and the right to run for public office. But Goulart personally took charge of quelling the insubordination.

Labor Minister Amaury Silva went into the building and he and Col. Domingos Ventura, a military police commander, apparently convinced the rebels to surrender.

A presidential aide told newsmen Goulart named Adm. Paulo Mario de Cunha Rodrigues as navy minister, replacing Adm. Silvio Mota.

Mota resigned Thursday after the rebels rejected his repeated attempts to get them to return to duty.

They were reported to have offered terms, saying they would leave peacefully and return to duty Monday if:

They were guaranteed no punishment.

Authorities recognized the association of sailors and marines that they formed last year.

All enlisted men held on charges of insubordination and engaging in political activities were freed, and

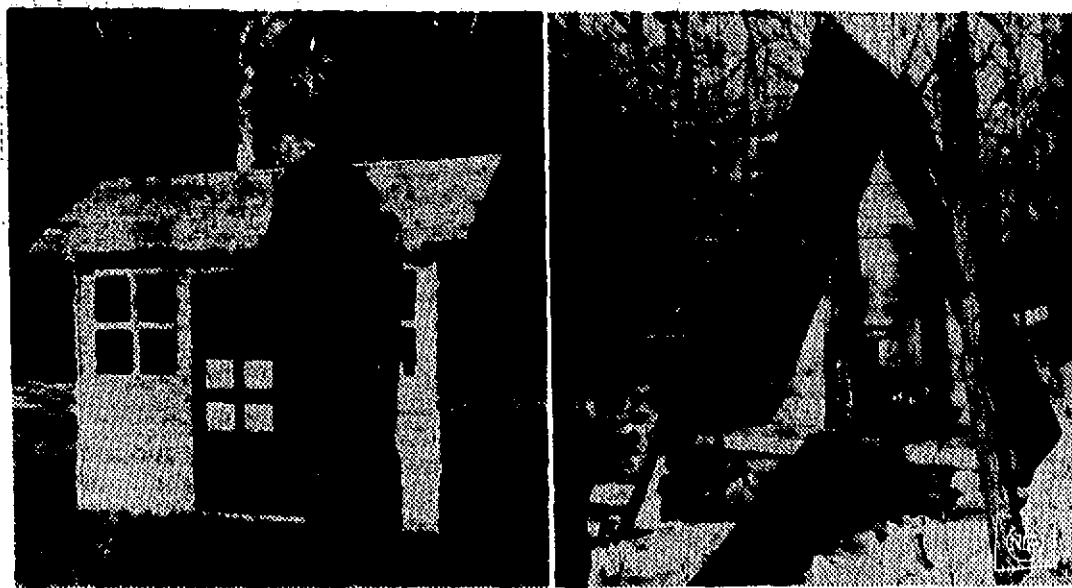

The navy was "humanized" and food on ships and at naval bases improved.

The navy said the rebellion remained localized. It said other units throughout the country were carrying out their normal duties.

The rebels yelled to onlookers that they were staying put to prevent the arrest of Cpl. Jose Anselmo whose arrest had been ordered for violating service regulations against making political speeches while on active duty.

Anselmo is president of the Association of Sailors and Marines. He and the other navy men went on Wednesday to the building, which houses a union hall, to celebrate the association's second anniversary.

Navy police also turned up with orders to arrest Anselmo. They agreed to let the corporal go ahead with his speech and take him into custody after the meeting. But then the men decided to stay in the building to prevent Anselmo's arrest, and the police finally left without the corporal.

CHANGING PLAYTIME—Sharp design has entered the field of children's playhouses. From the popular type, left, has grown the modernized version, right. A scaled-down model of an A-frame vacation cabin, the up-to-the-minute playhouse was built by its owner in Seattle, Wash., for about $200.

Lady Skunk Has Lost Her Battle

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP) — A lady skunk lost her battle with the humane society Thursday.

The skunk crawled between the walls of the Weyerhaeuser Co. Wednesday and kept the wood products company employees at bay with frequent broadsides.

After an elaborate trap failed to dislodge the animal, Jim Loggins, field superintendent of the humane society, held his nose and grabbed, pulling her out by the tail.

She let Loggins have full spray of her displeasure. He took her to society headquarters for disposition, then changed clothes.

This Robber Was Really Colorful

VANCOUVER, B.C. (AP) — A man wearing pink gloves, tan overalls and silver lacquer in his hair took $56,000 in unemployment insurance payments from an office of the National Employment Service at gunpoint.

A woman cashier, Mrs. Joseph Watson screamed, pressed an alarm button and fainted when the vault door swung open Thursday and she saw the man standing inside with a gun in one hand and the money sack in the other.

The man ran down a flight of back stairs, stepped into a car and drove off.

Van Dalsem Irked by Statements

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Perry County Rep. Paul Van Dalsem moved with tongue in cheek today that the House create a Committee On Ethics to screen statements made by its members to news media.

Van Dalsem said some members had gone around after the last regular legislative session referring to the legislature as the "sorriest ever."

"This casts reflection upon all of us," Van Dalsem said in mock indignation.

Mississippi County Rep. L. H. Autry asked Van Dalsem, "Have you considered, sir, the possibility that this committee would hamper your style?"

"Even I think my style needs hampering some of the time," retorted Van Dalsem.

Van Dalsem forgot about his motion and turned to a diatribe against the Republican Party, one of his favorite targets for criticism.

After he assailed the Republicans for 10 minutes, he left the microphone and the House ignored his motion.

The bit of horseplay took place while the House was waiting to adjourn after completing all of the regular business of the special session.

Plight of Crippled Is One of Vital Interest to Everyone Whether Children or Adults

By MARY ANITA LASETER

Star Feature Writer

"We then who are strong must bear the infirmities of the weak, and not to please ourselves." Romans 15:1.

The plight of the crippled child is one in which all are vitally interested in helping, and rightly so. But the crippled adult often needs special attention, too, and the Rotary Clubs in this area maintain a hospital for crippled adults in Memphis to meet this need.

Since 1926, 18 men and women from Hempstead County have found help at this 56-bed hospital.

It is the only hospital in the world built, equipped and operated solely to give orthopedic surgery and hospitalization to physically handicapped citizens 21 years of age and over. It neither conflicts with nor duplicates the work of any other institution in the world. It was started in 1923 under the leadership of the late Dr. Willis Campbell and other Rotarians in Memphis.

Not one penny has ever been paid any doctor for services rendered. It is supported entirely by voluntary contributions, and during the Rotary year 1963-64 the Hope Rotary Club has given $487.50 to the hospital. It does not consider its services as charity, even though no patient is admitted who can pay for service or obtain elsewhere — it is an investment in the human resources of our country.

The length of time spent in the hospital varies, as you would expect, with the individual. About 10 years ago Rebecca Fern Cross of Hope entered the hospital in great physical distress and discomfort. In her case, the trouble was easily detected and corrected, and she only stayed 10 days.

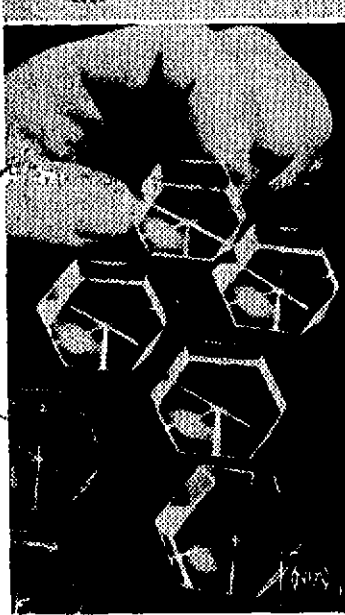

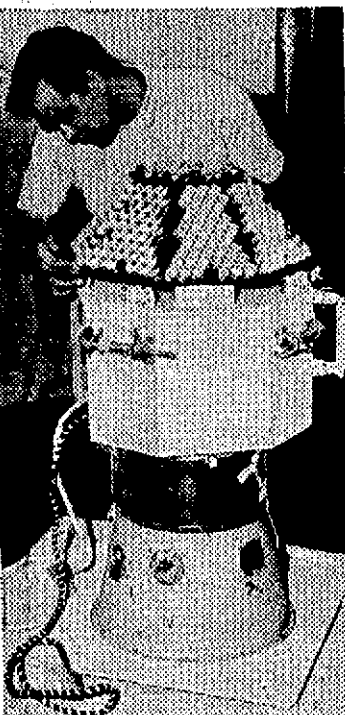

On the other hand, in the early '40s Roe Flaherty of McCaskill, who has been crippled by polio, spent about a year in the Rotary Hospital for Crippled Adults. He is certainly a fine example of what is meant by "investment in human resources." Today, he is principal of the Ashdown High School and is so happy with the results of the work at the hospital in Memphis and what it did for him that he has made numerous appearances before Rotary Clubs in Southwest Arkansas to tell his story.

The Rotary Clubs and the hospital which they sponsor in Memphis recognize the triple threat to the crippled: 1) the threat of losing the use of part of the physical body or of losing one or more members by amputation; 2) the threat of mental or emotional depression, discouragement and despondence; 3) the threat of being labeled a "cripple." The doctors, nurses, and all staff members at the Rotary Hospital combine their professional and personal efforts to face reality and live with their limitations in a courageous and happy manner.

The Hope Rotary Club, like all others in the Tri-State Association for Cripples, wants to locate crippled adults in their area who need and can be benefited by the services available and assist these crippled men and women in getting into the hospital. Patients over the years have come from Bingen, Blevins, Bonnerdale, Hope, McCaskill, McNab and Palmos. If you know of someone who is eligible and in need of the care offered, contact B. N. Holt, Secretary of the Hope Rotary Club, or Dr. L. T. Lawrence, a former President of the Tri-State Association for Cripples, Inc.

It has said of the Hospital that "It is here we are drawn closer to the divine throne of mercy in giving ourselves in service to others."

SPACE BEACON—The Beacon Explorer is unusual because it will be in touch with earth while in orbit by the use of light beams. The Beacon project will gather information on that part of the atmosphere known as the ionosphere. Its findings determined from radio impulses will be collected in 33 countries of the world. The newly invented laser beam will be flashed at the satellite. Prisms in the cone (top photo) will bounce the beam back to the source, allowing precise measurements of the satellite's position in space. Picture at bottom shows cone's fused quartz prisms in detail.

Group Not for Transport Measure

EL DORADO, Ark. (AP) —

The Ouachita River Valley Association was urged Thursday to oppose the administration's transportation bill, HB 9903.

The author of the measure, Rep. Oren Harris, D-Ark., was scheduled to address the association today as it ends its annual meeting.

H. K. Thatcher of Camden, executive vice president of the association, said Thursday the act should be opposed because "it would tighten the regulations on water carriers."

The ORVA hopes to get the federal government to turn the Ouachita River into a navigable stream with a 9-foot channel. Congress has appropriated funds for preliminary work on the river.

The transportation amendment act, Thatcher said, would allow "only one dry bulk commodity, instead of three, to be handled in a single vessel, or two, without being subject to rate regulations."

He also said the group opposes toll and use charges on the Ouachita.

Ulbricht Lost When Two U.S. Fliers Returned

An AP News Analysis

By CARL HARTMAN

BONN, Germany (AP) — Walter Ulbricht, East German Communist chief, apparently was the political loser when the Soviets returned the American airmen they had shot down over territory he is supposed to rule.

In the shooting and ensuing fuss, Ulbricht seems to have been ignored.

The United States and the Soviet Union refrained from making the incident into a cold war issue.

"I hope the matter will now be taken off the books," said Secretary of State Dean Rusk when he first announced that the men were to be released.

The United States is negotiating with the Soviets on other issues it does not want to see affected—such as the opening of U.S. consulates in the Soviet Union and establishment of direct air routes between the two countries.

Ulbricht probably would like to forget the flier incident, too. It represents a lost opportunity to promote his prestige, an opportunity the Soviets would not let him seize.

His enemies, particularly in West Germany, will do their best to make him and the rest of the world remember the snub.

The East German announcement that the two fliers had been expelled from East German territory was no evidence that East German authorities had ever laid hands on them.

A Soviet fighter shot the fliers down over East Germany March 10. They are Capt. David I. Holland, 35, Holland, Minn.; Capt. Melvin J. Kessler, 30, Philadelphia, and Lt. Harold W. Welch, 24, Detroit.

Soviet troops took over the airmen and the wreckage of the RB66 reconnaissance plane. Soviet leaders were in touch with Rusk and apparently were the ones who handed over Welch who had been injured to the Americans a week ago.

It was the Soviets again who apparently turned over Holland and Kessler Friday.

A U.S. Embassy spokesman said that as far as he could tell the East German regime had nothing to do with turning the men over.

Ulbricht's government is recognized mainly in Communist-ruled countries. The flier incident gave new evidence that the Soviets can readily ignore him despite nominal recognition.

UN Forces Signaled by Blue Berets

By ALEX EFTY

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP) — British and Canadian troops put on blue berets and the U.N. flag rose over their camps today, marking the birth of the United Nations Force in Cyprus.

Indian Lt. Gen. Prem Singh Gyani took command at dawn and assumed responsibility on behalf of the United Nations for keeping Greek and Turkish Cypriots from killing each other.

To begin his task, Gyani has 6,000 British and 1,000 Canadian soldiers. About half the British force will be withdrawn as Irish, Finnish and Swedish soldiers join the U.N. force shortly. An advance party of Swedes and Finns is due tonight.

Gyani, former commander of the U.N. Emergency Force in the Middle East, told the Canadians Thursday:

"Our one and simple aim is to do everything possible to assist them (the Cypriots) in preventing a recurrence of hostilities and ensuring that they resolve their problems under peaceful conditions. We must be absolutely impartial in whatever we do."

Maj. Gen. R.M.P. Carver, British commander on Cyprus, also donned a blue U.N. beret to become Gyani's second in command.

Except for the new headgear and change in top command the British Tommies carried on as usual at scattered posts throughout the 140-mile-long island. But the Canadians began their first peace-keeping patrols, with two companies assigned to the Nicosia suburb of Trahanas, a frequent trouble-spot between Greek and Turkish Cypriots.

Mother and Baby Are Doing Well

LONDON (AP) — A 5-foot 10 inch giraffe was born in London Zoo Thursday. Mother and calf are doing well.

For weeks keepers had maintained daily watch on the expectant mother over closed circuit television. But the baby was born in the early hours of this morning when no one was looking.

Keepers have not yet ascertained the baby giraffe's sex. A zoo official says giraffes usually come about 5 feet 8 to 6 feet at birth. Mother maude stands at 15 feet.

Rockefeller Bitter Over Two Defeats

By ROBERT T. GRAY

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller suffered serious defeats on two major issues during ghte 1964 session of the New York State Legislature, which ended early this morning on a note of anger and bitterness.

He claimed success on eight issues he listed as important.

But the setbacks were enough to cause the governor to recall the Republican-controlled Legislature to a special session April 15 for additional consideration of his program.

Rockefeller, a candidate for the Republican nomination for president, apparently is concerned that the homefront reverses pose a threat to his bid for national leadership.

The legislators rejected Thursday major Rockefeller program bills that would have:

Repealed a law providing for price fixing on retail liquor sales and eased other state controls over liquor, controls the governor says have bred graft and corruption.

Repealed the state's 51-year-old full-crow laws, which mandate the minimum size of crews on railroad trains and are blamed by the railroads as a cause of what they term featherbedding. He said defeat of the repeal bill was "a matter of deep distress to me." Organized labor opposed repeal.

Within minutes after adjournment, the governor called a news conference and announced he was calling the special session April 15 for reconsideration of the rejection of his liquor-law proposals.

Rules Woman Can't Attend Church Again

By ROBERT COOKE

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A judge has ruled that Betty Chapman—"the type of whom martyrs were made"—may never attend her church again.

Mrs. Chapman, 41, was accused of deliberately singing off key, loudly, and making faces at the pastor during services at nearby Mar Vista Baptist church.

Superior Court Judge McIntyre Faries ruled Thursday that "Mrs. Chapman did disturb the church in its worship and activities. Were she permitted to return, though she intends well, she would again—in the absence of change in church leadership and control—disturb it."

"The facts are sufficient to warrant injunctive relief."

Earlier Judge Farie had commented: "I have great admiration for Mrs. Chapman as an individual. She is the type of whom martyrs were made in the days of the early church."

Mrs. Chapman's problems began with a disagreement with her pastor, the Rev. Wayne Eurich, in 1960. The following year the church obtained a temporary injunction prohibiting her, her husband and daughter from attending services. They had been voted out of the congregation, but refused to quit attending.

Judge Faries earlier this month refused to issue a permanent injunction against the husband, John, 49, and daughter, Connie Ray, 22. He said there was insufficient evidence they were guilty of misconduct.

The disagreement arose when Eurich refused to perform a wedding ceremony Mrs. Chapman had arranged for a boy he said was under the age of consent.

Mrs. Chapman said she prefers not to join another church. She said the Mar Vista church is her "church home."

Alaska Torn by Quake, Many May Be Dead

JUNEAU, Alaska (AP) — A vicious earthquake rumbled through Alaska Friday night, leveling the main street of Anchorage, and killing at least 50 persons.

The casualty figure was given to Gov. William A. Egan by Gen. Andy Lipscombe, chief of the Army's Yukon Command. The governor's office reported 30 persons missing at Valdez.

The toll seemed sure to climb. More than 50 homes were reported to have tumbled down a cliff in Anchorage.

Civil Defense headquarters said a report had been received that Valdez was wiped out and much of Seward was on fire.

A 17-foot tidal wave was reported sweeping up Cook Inlet, at whose head Anchorage is located.

The Fish and Game Department said one of its mobile radio units in Anchorage estimated the dead there at between 50 and 300 with injuries in the hundreds.

The earthquake hit the Fairbanks area at 5:37 p.m. It apparently picked up in intensity as it rolled southward.

Lipscombe reported the main street of Anchorage, a modern city of 48,000 persons and the state's largest, "completely flattened."

Six bodies were reported recovered from Turnagain Bluff homes. The cliff is the site of several luxurious homes owned by some of the city's most prominent people.

Civil Defense headquarters at Fairbanks said between Third and Fourth Streets in Anchorage—the heart of the city—that 50 per cent of the buildings were destroyed and that 90 per cent of them were down between Second and Ninth Streets.

All utilities were cut off and the city was in darkness.

A KC135 was en route to Juneau to pick up Egan and other officials to take them to Anchorage. The plane will take six doctors, 18 nurses and other personnel to the stricken area.

The seismologist at the University of Washington said the intensity of the earthquake was about the same as that of the San Francisco earthquake of 1906. He said it appeared centered in the bay across from Seward, about 1,500 miles northwest of Seattle.

Tremors were felt in British Columbia and Seattle. The Washington State Civil Defense authorities alerted all coastal counties of a possible tidal wave.

Residents along the beach at Seaside, Ore., were evacuated.

The 60-foot control tower at the Anchorage International Airport was knocked down and 3,000 feet of runway was reported torn out. A hangar collapsed at Elmendorf Air Force Base outside Anchorage, but there was a report the runway might be usable there.

A ham radio operator said the tidal wave had flooded much of Kodiak.

Search Begins for Spotter

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — A search began today for a spotter plane with two U.S. officers aboard which disappeared Thursday in jungled mountain terrain near the Laotian frontier.

American military sources said the unarmed light plane was flying near Lao Bao, a village on the Laotian border about 400 miles north of Saigon. The area is only 20 miles from Communist North Viet Nam.

On board were an Air Force captain and an Army captain, the sources said. There was no indication of their fate.

Would Apply Torture to Teenagers

By LOYAL GOULD

FRANKFURT, Germany (AP) — One of the main defendants at Germany's war crimes trial declared today a torture apparatus he developed at Auschwitz concentration camp should be used on teenagers.
"I am of the definite opinion that there would be far less juvenile delinquency today if my swing, together with whipping, were used on teenagers," former Sgt. Wilhelm Boger testified at the trial of 21 former guards and Auschwitz functionaries.

A gasp went up from the 300 or so trial spectators. Shouts came from a number of young people in the spectators' gallery.

The defendant developed what a parade of former Auschwitz prisoners have called the camp's most sadistic torture instrument, the "Boger swing" or what Boger calls "my talking machine."

It consisted of a beam of wood suspended from the ceiling of the interrogation center. Naked male prisoners were bound around the beam, their hands tied to their feet, and beaten.

A former Auschwitz inmate had testified that a friend of his had been worked over by the defendant on his torture instrument and died shortly after.

Boger insisted that no one died as a result of being on his swing.

Boger, as he has said every time a witness has accused him of torturing inmates to death, yelled back at Judge Hans Hofmeyer: "I only had my orders!"

"It's always the little man who gets hanged not the ones who did the ordering," he shouted.

John Huston Candidate for 'Oscar'

By JAMES BACON

AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Odds-on favorite to win this year's Oscar as best supporting actor is a lean, lanky Irishman who acts for free and couldn't care less if he ever acts again.

And the Oscar? If he wins—as most experts predict—it will be no novelty. He won in 1948 for best director and best screenwriter. He also helped his father win an Oscar for the same movie—"The Treasure of the Sierra Madre."

How did Director John Huston get cast as the cardinal-arch-

WHY YOUTHS AVOID THE TOO - BEAUTIFUL GIRL

By DR. JOYCE BROTHERS

Dear Dr. Brothers: I'm in my middle teens and I'm not immodest but it's true I'm considered quite beautiful. But I have a real problem: Few boys of my own group ask me for dates. I'll meet a boy I'd especially like to know better, and he shies away from me. He's not unfriendly. He just doesn't seem to ask me on dates. It happens often.

I've tried to avoid any objectionable characteristics, and I think I've overcome those I had. It's just that my age group of boys shy away from me. I need your help. — A. S.

Dear A. S.: If, as you say, you're aware of behavior that could affect being asked on dates, and you've worked to overcome any shortcomings, then probably your solution lies much more in understanding the outlook of boys your own age. You male teens inwardly, aren't at all sure of themselves. Far from it. If they're cocky, it's a cover-up. They're unsure of their power to attract girls at this age.

Typically they see a beautiful girl — in this case you — and right off their reaction is that you can afford to be "choosy." And out comes their masculine defense: They say the girl is "stuck up."

The way to encourage boys to ask you on dates is this: act unconscious of your looks. If a boy says, "Gee, you're beautiful," thank him but don't say it in a tone that asks for still more of a compliment. Rather change the subject. And add something else to this modesty: Be as friendly and open as possible. Soon you should find yourself having all the dates you desire.

And I'll let you in on another feminine secret: Grown men are often backward about asking a beautiful woman for a date. For the same reason.

Beauty has its assets. But it also has its price. This is one of them.

Is Moodiness Abnormal?

A man writes: "I find myself an extremely moody person. At times my happiness soars quite high, and others my blue mood becomes quite deep. I don't know whether there's any pattern to this or not, but I've begun to wonder whether being moody is normal, and whether there's anything I can do to control these moods."

I venture to say that unless your moods of depression are such that they interfere with your life, or perhaps keep you from getting out of bed in the morning, you are pretty normal. All of us have moods, and even though you seem to have no indication yourself that there is a regularity to them, we're found by research and investigation that moods seem to come in cycles.

These are virtually so regular we can chart them, and you can predict just when you're likely to be feeling high, and when you're likely to be feeling low. Actually, it's very simple to keep such a chart for yourself.

bishop of Boston in Otto Preminger's "The Cardinal?"

"My agent is Ingo Preminger, Otto's brother," says Huston. "He is also his brother's agent."

"Otto told Ingo that he wanted a John Huston type to play the part. Ingo said there is no such thing as a John Huston type except John Huston. So Ingo suggested to his brother that he cast me. It was all very simple."

When the picture came out, one important critic wrote that Huston's father couldn't have played the role better. His father, of course, was the late Walter Huston whom Stanislavsky once called the greatest actor in the world.

"I can't say I agree with that critic," says the son. Huston took no money for the role.

Huston recently renounced his U.S. citizenship for Irish nationality. He makes his permanent home in County Galway.

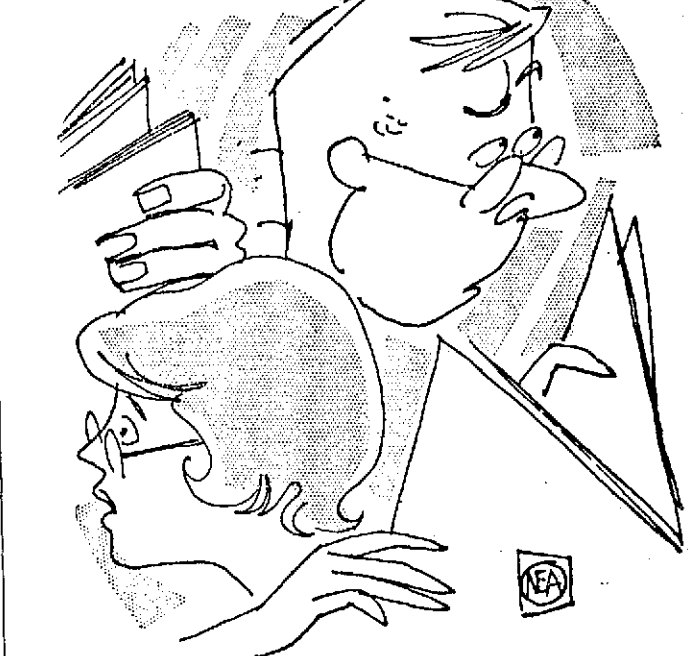

"I believe a person should be a citizen of the country where he lives," he argues. He has lived in Ireland for 12 years.

Medders took another hard look at that torn-open wall. Three layers of this kind of stuff from floor to ceiling—even at the prices you had to take from a fence—wasn't nothing to be sneezed at. Well over $100,000 worth for certain.

Returning to the well shaft he started up the ladder. Peering into the blackness of that No. 3 level he stood a while, scowling, remembering that series of tiny dungoon-like cubicles with the rusted chains bolted into the rock.

He left the shaft, reluctantly advancing into the black horror of this passage whose shadows gave way like cornered beasts before the sizzling carbide arc of his lamp. Ears stretched, mouth breathlessly open, Charlie shuddered to a stop beside the first cell he came to. He knew from memory they were all alike, open faced and bare, yet forced his jumpy nerves to go on and so arrived, as he had that other time at gallery's end, against the same rough surface of cinnamon rock.

Crouched there, peering, he did a sudden double take. This wasn't granite! Reaching out he touched the wall's raspy feel, while directing the lamp on his twisting head into the nearest of those dingy crypts.

As remembered it looked like the rest, rusty chain and all. He hardly glanced at the chain. He had imagined these caves to have been the habitat or ceremonial chambers of some prehistoric tribe long gone and forgotten. But now, with Jones' talk banging through his mind, he was vibrantly aware of pale greenish veins he had not noticed before in the stone which had been left to form the cell partitions. The same greenish tinge O'Toole had marked in that ore!

McClellan Is Against Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. John L. McClellan D-Ark. voted against a motion approved by the Senate today to take up for consideration the House-passed civil rights bill. Sen. J. William Fulbright D-Ark. was against the motion but paired with a colleague who was for it. The motion passed 67 to 17 on a roll call vote.

A Model of Moon Ship on Display

A. P. Science Writer

BETHPAGE, N.Y. (AP)—A full-scale wooden model of America's moonship was put on display today and it looks like an ugly bug.

It is designed to carry two astronauts to a landing on the moon for a 24-hour visit there, and then return to a mother ship circling the moon for the voyage back to earth.

Officials of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration and half a dozen astronauts, some of whom may be future pilots, have been checking the design and systems for the moonship for several days. NASA officials said they had approved the design to go ahead and begin producing actual craft for testing and future flights.

The moonship is LEM, meaning lunar excursion module in space-age jargon. It is being built by Grumman Aircraft Engineering Corp. under a $390-million NASA contract.

On close-up inspection, newsmen and photographers were surprised at its size, compared with the little Mercury capsule which carried U.S. astronauts on their first journeys around the earth.

LEM stands 22 feet high and 10 feet across. The bottom half, with four ungainly legs ending in pods as feet, is intended to land gently on the moon, with two astronauts esconced in the bug-shaped upper portion.

On takeoff from the moon, the bottom half will be its launch pad and will be left behind.

pharmacist less.

With modern methods, a pharmacist now simply measures the amount of drug called for in the prescription from a bulk supply and packages it for the customer, Smeed said.

"There is relatively little compounding of prescriptions now," he said. "Specialty and pharmaceutical houses have taken over those problems. There was considerably more compounding when most of us (practical druggists) started in business than there is now."

The practical men also feel that a change in the law to provide relief would have little effect on the quality of pharmacy in the state.

"There are only 138 of us," Smeed said. "And the passage of time eventually will eliminate all of us."

Legal Notice

In The Hempstead County Probate Court, In The Matter of the Estate of Lorena Smead, Deceased, Aurely Smead, Executor.

No. 1681

Notice is hereby given that Aurely Smead, as Executor of the Estate of Lorena Smead, Deceased, has filed his petition in said Court asking for authority to sell to Blanche T. Robbins the land hereinafter described for $700.00 cash and at private sale, free of all encumbrances, said lands being situated in Hempstead County, Arkansas, and described as follows:

Part of the Northwest Quarter of the Southwest Quarter (NW 1/4 SW 1/4) of Section Thirty (30) Township Ten (10) South, Range Twenty-five (25) West, more particularly described as follows, to-wit: Commencing at the Southwest Corner of said NW 1/4 SW 1/4 of said Section 30 and run thence East 660 feet to Mrs. Pauline Ball's Southeast Corner, The Point of Beginning: Run thence North 640 feet to fence, run thence East with said fence 290 feet to Missouri Pacific Railroad right-of-way, run thence Southeastly with said railroad right-of-way to the South line of said NW 1/4 SW 1/4, run thence West 380 feet back to The Point of Beginning, containing 4.9 acres, more or less, in Ozan Corporation.

By order of said Court, said petition will be heard by said Court or the Judge thereof, at 9:00 A.M., April 14, 1964, in the Court Room in the Courthouse in the City of Hope, Hempstead County, Arkansas.

In Testimony Whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and the seal of said Court on this 26th day of March, 1964.

J. D. TURNAGE, Clerk of Hempstead County Probate Court March 28, April 4, 1964

Calls Rights Debate Just a Con Game

By JULES LOH

WASHINGTON (AP) — Malcolm X, spokesman for the militant Black Nationalists, watched the droning civil rights debate from the Senate visitors' gallery today and denounced it was a "con game."

Malcolm flew here from New York this morning on what he described as a reconnaissance mission.

He said he wanted to see what a filibuster was like, decide whether the Negro group he heads should conduct demonstrations, and if so what form they should take.

Malcolm broke recently with the Black Muslim sect which so far has not cooperated with various civil rights groups seeking passage of the bill.

He said his reason for aligning his schismatic group with the others is because "I'm willing to support anything the Negro believes will help solve his problem."

"But I can tell you right now this bill won't solve it," he said. "You can't legislate good will—that comes about only by education."

"If this bill is passed, it will never be enforced. Enforcing it would bring a civil war to the South and a race war to the North."

Malcolm was joined by five members of his group who drove from New York and met him at the office of Rep. Adam Clayton Powell D-N.Y., where they obtained Senate gallery visitors' passes. They were in the gallery when the Senate voted 87-17 to take up the bill formally.

As for the debate in the Senate over the civil rights bill, "It is nothing but a con game in which people agree in advance what they are not going to do, then pretend they are doing something to get it," he said.

Later, Malcolm told newsmen to expect another Negro march on Washington should the filibuster drag on, "except this time it won't be so orderly."

"This time they will come here to camp. They won't be under the restraining hand of the civil rights groups," he said.

Pope to Tell Easter Message

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Pope

Paul VI will give an Easter message to the world at 6:30 a.m. Eastern Standard Time Sunday with radio networks of 14 nations linked to Vatican radio, the Vatican announced today.

Vatican radio will carry the Pope's words by short wave at 31.10, 25.67, 25.55, 19.84 and 16.93 meters.

date after which no one else could be licensed as a practical druggist.

Smeed said none of the practical men had ever been involved in a malpractice suit. He indicated that this was further evidence that the practical men should be allowed to practice freely.

He said the main purpose of the registered pharmacist in the drug store was to provide supervision and pointed out that the pharmacist was only required to be present and not required to dispense drugs.

Only the legislature can provide the relief the practical men feel is necessary to remain in business, Smeed said.

He said he and a group of them visited Gov. Orval E. Faubus early in January and said the governor also felt the situation needed changing.

"We want only to come out from under this supervision and pursue our livelihood," Smeed said.

Late Show Sat. at Saenger; Also Sunday & Monday

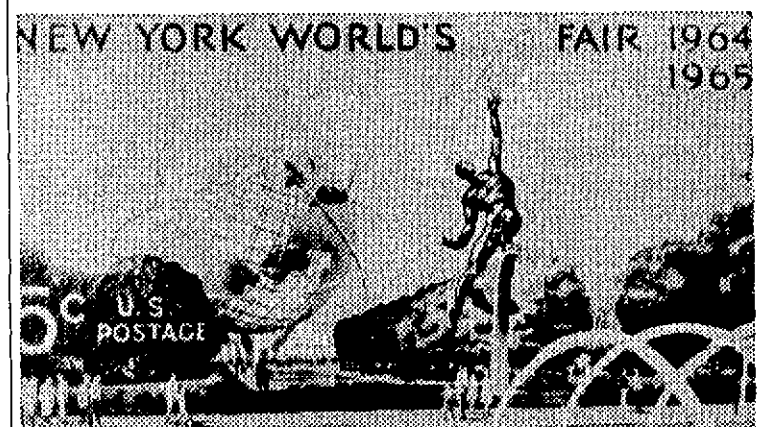

It's love and laughs, plus a bit of larceny, with Lee Remick and James Garner in Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's "The Music Man." Hilarious spoof of Wall Street, lady brokers and a con man who takes both for a ride! Phil Harris, Chill Wills, Jim Backus, Louis Nye, John Astin, Elliott Reid and Patricia Crowley co-star in the new Panaramision and color comedy.

Starts Tuesday at Saenger

"THE MUSIC MAN" Stars Robert Preston and Shirley Jones with Buddy Hackett, Hermione Gingold and Paul Ford.

Wisconsin Favored in UA Relays

FAVETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) - Wisconsin's Badgers are favored to capture the lion's share of medals in the 13th annual Arkansas Relays here Saturday.

More than 430 athletes from 21 schools invade Razorback Stadium for the first major outdoor meet in the Midwest.

In the relay events, only the 440-yard and the 880-yard races appear safe in the record books.

Bill Holden of Wisconsin, who has already cleared 6-10, is the main threat to the high jump mark of 6-5 1/2.

Oklahoma State's Preston Holsinger has sailed over 15-5 in the pole vault, compared to the relays record of 15-3 1/4.

The two mile run, the mile run and the hop, step and jump records also appear in jeopardy.

Entries in the university and college division:

Minnesota, Nebraska, Oklahoma State, Kansas State, Missouri, Wisconsin, Wichita, Southern Illinois, Tulsa, Drake, Oklahoma City, Kansas State of Emporia, Oklahoma Baptist, Kansas State of Pittsburg, John Brown and Arkansas.

The freshman-junior college division includes teams from Church Sunday, March 29, at 3 p.m. The public is invited to attend. Rev. M. C. Johnson, Pastor.

Rain Delays Azalea Open

WILMINGTON, N.C. (AP) - Delayed a day by rain, the $20,000 Azalea Open golf tournament's field of 160 started anew today on the first round.

A heavy mid-morning downpour following night-long showers forced postponement of play Thursday. Officials waited some 90 minutes before deciding to start all over today. Fifty-four players were called in from the front nine.

When play was suspended, at least four holes of the Cape Fear Country Club were under water.

Under the revised schedule, an extra day has been added, setting back the wind-up of the 72-hole tournament to Monday.

From Wilmington, the touring stars move some 190 miles to Greensboro, N.C., for a tournament opening Thursday. It will be followed by the Augusta Masters, final stop on the winter tour.

Non-Tigers Turn in Best Times

LITTLE ROCK (AP) - Little Rock Central won its Tiger Relays but non-Tigers turned in the best times here Thursday night.

Bruce Henson of Harding Academy and Randy Erwin of Little Rock turned in terrific early-season performances in the 880-yard run and the mile run.

Erwin ran the half-mile in 1:55.9, which equals the state record.

Henson ran the mile in 4:27.5, six-tenths short of the state record set last year by Chuck Hemingway, who finished second to Henson Thursday night.

Central won every other running event, and North Little Rock and Benton chalked up triumphs in the field events.

Central had 61 1/2 points, Benton had 26, North Little Rock 23 1/2, Little Rock Hall 19 1/2, Malvern 10, Hot Springs 10, Harding 7 1/2, El Dorado 4, Blytheville 1, Stuttgart 1.

Tornado Doing Right Hand Turn

HALEYVILLE, Ala. (AP) - Tornadoes often bring freak events, and the one that hit at nearby Addison Wednesday was no exception. Six of the injured suffered broken collarbones on the right side.

Dr. Robert F. Blake, their physician at a hospital here, said that it was the first time he had seen such similar injuries. "They apparently must have seen the storm and were all trying to run—all in the same direction."

Athletes Have No Obligation for Tour

KANSAS CITY (AP) - The NCAA said today top college basketball players should be under no obligation to participate in a tour of Russia, Italy and Yugoslavia and the trip should have no bearing on selection of the United States Olympic basketball team.

Walter Byers NCAA executive director, said the NCAA "wishes to make certain there be no pressure, official or implied, that willingness to make the tour has any relationship to Olympic team selection of collegiate players."

At the same time, the NCAA said Henry P. Iba, coach of the Olympic team, disclosed in Lexington, Ky., that he declined an invitation to coach the tour team because of prior commitments, and reservations he has about the worth of the trip.

The tour, sponsored by the State Department, was announced March 7. It starts April 18, with eight games in Russia, two in Yugoslavia and two in Italy. The U.S. Olympic basketball trials are set for April 2-4 at St. Johns University, Jamaica, N.Y.

Byers said the fact the Olympic Games at Tokyo will be held in the fall adds to the missed class time and academic problems for the players and makes it "mandatory for the NCAA to be certain no additional obligation on the part of college players be involved."

he will appoint William McCormick Blair Jr. as U.S. ambassador to the Philippines.

Blair, who is retiring as ambassador to Denmark, will succeed William E. Stevenson in the Manila post. Stevenson, former president of Oberlin College in Ohio, submitted his resignation last month.

The IMMORTAL

...and may we sing Hallelujah! For Christ the Lord is risen. The lilies are in bloom and men and angels are in jubilation.
Because He lives, we know we too shall live.
The Greeks were wrong.
Man is not mortal, but rather immortal.
For God hath set eternity in the heart of man.
This Easter, we share the immortality of Jesus Christ. His journey to Golgotha transfigured the cross forever, turning that symbol of suffering into a symbol of triumphant life.
Then let us live like women and men who expect to go on and on forever
... world without end. This is indeed our true Christian hope. This is what Easter means to us today.

You In The Church
The Church is You
— form a combination for good. Every man, woman and child needs
the influence of the church. So come let us go into the house of the Lord. Let us
support her program of service to humanity, be a faithful worker and attend services regularly.

THE CHURCHES OF THIS COMMUNITY ARE THE ONLY INSTITUTIONS WHICH HAVE AS THEIR MAIN FUNCTION, THE TRANSFORMING OF HUMAN LIVES. THEY ARE THE SIGN BOARDS POINTING THE WAY TO GOD.

Sponsors of these messages urge faithful church support. Through these pages the appeal is for all men to stand up and be counted . . . to combat Communism on all fronts . . . to be faithful to God.

OUR PASTORS ARE GOD'S SERVANTS WHO CALL THE SIGNALS AGAINST THE ORGANIZED FORCES OF EVIL. THEY INVITE YOU TO ENLIST ON THE SIDE FOR GOD . . .
